Alcohol Server Training Programs

Last updated January 23, 2009

As of January 1, 2006, only Certified Alcohol Server Training Programs are considered to be in compliance with RI General Law, 3-7-6.1. The following is a list of alcohol server training programs that have been certified by the Department of Mental Health, Retardation and Hospitals.

Please note that the Department currently is in the process of re-certifying Programs whose original certification period ends on or before February 19, 2009. Certification for these Programs will remain in effect until such time as the review process has been completed and re-certification has been approved or denied. For all other Programs, certification will be in effect until the end of the posted certification period (unless revoked).

The Department expects to certify additional programs in the near future. Please visit the MHRH website at www.mhrh.ri.gov or the Department of Business Regulation's website at www.dbr.state.ri.us for updates to the current list of Certified Alcohol Server Training Programs.

Also, please be aware that RI General Laws require certain individuals to successfully complete an alcohol server training program. If you completed a training program on or before December 31, 2005, your training certificate was recognized as valid for up to three years from the date of certification, but no later than December 31, 2008. Upon renewal of your certification, you must successfully complete a training program provided by one of the above-listed Certified Alcohol Server Training Programs.
